It may have been a small class reunion, but a group of former business studies students from the Segamat branch of Universiti Teknologi Mara was thrilled to catch up with each other.

The 10 ex-students took the Diploma in Business Studies at UiTM Segamat in 1986.

Organising chairman Suratman Aris, 42, said the effort to trace former students started via the Facebook website, while some were contacted by telephone.

"Much of the planning was done in Facebook because we were scattered in Johor Baru, Kulajaya, Segamat, Kluang, Batu Pahat, Ledang and Kuala Lumpur.

"I am thankful the plan worked out, and we hope to gather more people in future reunions," he said during the cozy gathering held at a restaurant in Jalan Abdullah Tahir, Johor Baru recently.

He said many of the ex-students were happy to meet up with old friends and they took the opportunity to catch up and reminisce on old times.

Salwani Adlim, 43, said invitations were sent out to many ex-students.

"However, not many could turn up as they had other commitments.

"The reunion was to foster closer ties among UiTM alumni."
