Promoting our culture via song and the arts

CULTURAL SHOW:
Central Market and University Institute Teknologi Mara is co-organising 'Music for Life'

KUALA LUMPUR

streetsginstp.com.my

The event is held every Friday at Kasturi Walk, Central Market, from 8.30pm to 9pm.

The music ensemble brings on to the stage an array of Malaysian traditional instruments, including the bamboo ensemble, the ukulele, the saxophone, percussions and strings.

Discover also kerongong, a type of folk music originally developed in Java, Indonesia, and performed using the ukulele alongside other string instruments.

An exciting covered walkway at Central Market Kuala Lumpur, Kasturi Walk boasts an al fresco ambience with a tantalising variety of F&B kiosks selling local snacks and bites.

It also has kiosks featuring souvenirs, accessories and handicrafts.

Colourful cultural performances are also showcased here to show off Malaysia's vibrant culture to tourists and locals.

Says Central Market complex manager Cheong Wai Mun: "The collaboration between Central Market Kuala Lumpur and UiTM provides an excellent opportunity for tourists and locals to explore and experience the cultural landscape of Malaysia through the love for music and arts."

She added: "The link between arts, culture and tourism has been an ongoing inspiration for Central Market Kuala Lumpur."

"We are committed to create a platform for local artists to showcase their skills and talent to promote Malaysia's rich culture and diversity."

Cheong said Central Market Kuala Lumpur's commitment to the development and preservation of art in Malaysia is apparent through its support and efforts in offering many opportunities to interested parties.

This is to promote Malaysia's cultural heritage through enlivening performances, festive celebrations and cultural events.

The Music For Life performance by the students of UiTM is an ongoing event at Kasturi Walk.

It features an array of exciting programmes combining arts and music through classical and contemporary renditions.

This special musical performance is free and open to the public every Friday at 8.30pm.
Promoting our culture via song and the arts

Reflecting a culture through song.